Historians have successfully pointed to new ways of re-writing Christianity’s history, says TEOTONIO R DE SOUAZ

The History of Christianity: Post-colonial perspective

An international conference, gathering 10 scholars from various nationalities and con-

Anatomy of a news

October 31st, Wednesday

Hyderabad Herald... its destiny. Thus it is now

Historical Explorations

The conference was attended by 40 scholars from various nationalities and con-

The History of Christianity

Post-colonial perspective

In the context of Christianity’s history, it is now possible to understand that the role of missionaries in the spread of Christianity was not just to convert people, but also to establish new cultures and societies in the areas where they worked. This perspective challenges the traditional narrative of a single, monolithic Christian mission that sought to spread its faith through the use of force and violence. Instead, it highlights the complexity of the missionary enterprise and the ways in which it was shaped by local contexts and cultural interactions.

Directors’ day up ahead? The look of love

With all due respect to H.E. The Governor, the exercise of power is not a function of the political machinery that deals with disputes in private or public. It is a matter of conscience, which must be based on the principles of justice, fairness and compassion, and must not be influenced by any personal considerations or interests. The exercise of power must be guided by the principles of humility, moderation, and respect for the dignity of all.

Cambodia is a chaotic world, where it is possible to make love a thing to bring happiness to the most disturbed child. But it is also possible to turn love into a weapon and, like a sword, cause pain and suffering.

Letters to the Editor

Considering the many challenges that face us today, I believe that the importance of love and compassion cannot be overstated. Love is not just a feeling, but a powerful force that can bring about positive change in the world. It is the foundation upon which all good and just things are built.

Good work

Brian Aimwell, Sheen, New Delhi

It’s time to be kind to each other. We are all part of the same human family, and we should treat each other with respect and kindness.

Statures bind judges

Gianni, Goa

As a society, we must work together to create a world where love and compassion are the order of the day. This requires us to be mindful of our actions and words, and to strive to make the world a better place for all.

Cupid’s day up ahead? The look of love

With all due respect to H.E. The Governor, the exercise of power is not a function of the political machinery that deals with disputes in private or public. It is a matter of conscience, which must be based on the principles of justice, fairness and compassion, and must not be influenced by any personal considerations or interests. The exercise of power must be guided by the principles of humility, moderation, and respect for the dignity of all.

Cambodia is a chaotic world, where it is possible to make love a thing to bring happiness to the most disturbed child. But it is also possible to turn love into a weapon and, like a sword, cause pain and suffering.

Letters to the Editor

Considering the many challenges that face us today, I believe that the importance of love and compassion cannot be overstated. Love is not just a feeling, but a powerful force that can bring about positive change in the world. It is the foundation upon which all good and just things are built.

Good work

Brian Aimwell, Sheen, New Delhi

It’s time to be kind to each other. We are all part of the same human family, and we should treat each other with respect and kindness.

Statures bind judges

Gianni, Goa

As a society, we must work together to create a world where love and compassion are the order of the day. This requires us to be mindful of our actions and words, and to strive to make the world a better place for all.